"And have most of that take away from them for allotments and insurance," interjected Senator Dale of Vermont, who split with President Coolidge over the bonus.
This time the insurgents demanded a vote, and the margin was overwhelming, the King amend ment carrying by 54 to 12.

LIST OF TAX CUTS. TOTALING $99,600,000 ADDED BY SENATE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11. D URING a spectacular stampede, in which the Senate sot from under the control of its leaders, it added to the tax reductions already provided in the Finance Committee's bill, still other reductions to-taling $99.600,000.

The additional cuts were made as follows:

Abolition of the sales, or excise tax. on passenger automobiles, which had been expected to produce $69,600,000 a year. Abolition of the admissions or amusements tax, which had the present Senate bill, includthe present senate bill, including those already voted and scheduled by the committee, amount to more than $450,000,000. Secretary Mellon has said that $330.000.000 was the absolute "danger point."

At the Treasury today it was said Secretary Mellon would rely on the work of the Conference Committees of the House and Senate to bring the total cuts within the timit which the Treasury has announced it could stand The Secretary, it was said, would do nothing further in the way of pointing out its position.

In lopping off further tax re-ceipts, the Treasury held the Senate disregarded the advice of its own advisers. Mellon's idea it was said was that the Senate "knows the size of the cloth which they are cutting and if the suit does not fit, there will obviously be a short-

Not a soul ever approached me. How did they know the other side had the most votes?"

taxpayers, and the Republic agreed to do more for the little fellows than they wanted to, in order to get all they desired for the rich In other words, they swap injustice. I am opposed to that sort of legislation."

The roll was called again Smoot and his forces were demoralized The vote showed that King's mendment had carried by 42 to

It was then, in the midst of the hubbub and laughter that Reed of Pennsylvania called attention to he storm, and put his motion to "Tax Bill Destroyed."

"The tax bill is destroyed," ex-claimed Smoot, dramatically, as he members filed out. The strain under which the es-ate or inheritance tax had been epealed, night have indicated the coming break. It had required the exercise of tremendous pressure from leaders on both sides to put through, and it is worth noting that more Republicans voted against the repeal than Democrats The 1921 revenue bill imposed a maximum estate tax of 25 per cent The maximum applied to estates of more than $10,000.000 The 1924 bill increased the maximum to 40 per cent. The present bill as it came from the House, reduced the maximum to 20 per cent and provided for certain credits on account of State Inheritance taxes. The Senate Finance Committee, how ever, amended it by repealing the tax entirely. Not only did it repeal it, but it made the repeal retroactive. That s, it provided that all estates whic had paid the 1924 rates should receive refunds, or credits, suffi cient to reduce the maximum to 25 per cent. This was defended on ground that the 1924 rate made an "inequitable hump" between the 1921 rates and the present repeal Refund of $85,000,000.

The amount thus to be paid back, or credited was estimated by some of the speakers yesterday as high as $85.000,000, although Smoot contended it would be much lower. The period covered by it that between June. 1924, and the late when the present bill goes 'nto effect. Some very wealthy men have died in that period, and be hind this lies a story that has been agitating the cloak rooms and the press gallery since the day Senator Simmons and his minority col eagues on the Finance Committee entered the compromise to support he Republican bill

Perhaps the largest estate afof the bill is that of the late James B Dike tobacco magnate it will be recalled that he bequeathed large sums to colleges and other institutions in North Carolina and the Federal estate tax on these bequests was very large In fact it has been estimated that the present bill will relieve the estate of not less than $6,000,000 tn es-It was to this situation that

FRIENDLY SUIT OVER CROSS-COUNTY ROAD

County Court to Bring Action to Settle Dispute as to the Route.

I briendly suft against the State Highway Department will be filed next week in the Supreme Court at Jefferson City by the St. Louis County Court, in the form of a mandamus to compel the department to construct the projected belt highway from St. Charles road to Lemay Ferry road, according to the route designated by the County

The route to be followed between Olive Street road and St. Charles road has been in dispute for more than a year, and has served to hold up construction of the remainder of the highway, which is to be built by the State in conideration of roads built by the County which were taken over as a part of the State highway sys-. The County Court insists that Maryland Heights be included in the route, while the State recom mends a shorter route not passing the village.

Each contends that it has the right to designate the route, the County Court interpreting the statute empowering the State to 'supervise" the construction of refund highways as referring only to specifications and construction fea-

The suggestion of attorneys for the Highway Commission that the question be referred to the Atorney-General for a ruling, made Tuesday at a conference at Jefferson City, was not agreed to by County Counselor John Nolan, and the plan to submit the question of designation of the route to the Supreme Court was assented to. A request will be made that the case be heard by the Supreme Court en banc. A decision probably will be reached by June 1, No. lan said today. ACQUITTED ON SELF-DEFENSE

PLEA IN ROADHOUSE KILLING Jesse Cochran, East St. Louisan, Freed of Murder Charge by Jury at Belleville.

Jesse Cochran, 31 years old, of 510 North Forty-third street, East St. Louis, was acquitted of the murder of Louis Pelsky, a former roadhouse keeper at 8000 Lake drive, in Circuit Court at Belleville today, on his place of the street of the ville today, on his plea of self-de-

The State's case rested on evidence tending to prove. Cochran entered the roadhouse early in the evening with his wife and child and departed only to come back alone. Pelsky asked him to take Clement Reeves, a park policeman, home, and Cochran agreed except that he demanded Reeves leave his revolver with Pelsky. An argument nsued in which Cochran shot Pelsky after ordering those present to put up their hands.

Cochran testified that he agreed take Reeves home, but insisted that he must leave his revolver with Pelsky. He said that Pelsky then advanced toward him with Reeves' revolver, saying Cochran could not insult his friends. Coch-ran said he fired in the belief that Pelsky was about to shoot him.

GOULD FORTUNE IN PUBLIC BONDS

Accounting Discloses Estate Has Rid Itself of Industrial and Rail Securities.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch, NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Two accountings filed by Edwin Gould, Mrs. Finley J. Shepard, formerly Helen Gould, and the Equitable Frust Co., as trustees for the shares of the late Jay Gould's estate held trust for his sons, Howard Gould and the late George J. Gould, reveal ow the railroad and industrial seurities making up a large part of ne Jay Gould estate a few years o have been closed out and the occeeds invested mainly in Govstate and municipal

A statement of disbursements made in the accounting of Howard Gould's share gives the first official intimation of the size of the fees of lawyers in the Jay Gould accounting proceedings.

Taylor, Knowles & Hack, according to the accounting filed yester-day, received $75,409 from the Jay Gould estate trustees for legal services during 1924. In 1925 the firm DeForest Brothers received $30,- 052 in 1924 and $30,000 in 1925. Murray Aldrich and Roberts were paid $30,237 for services renlered during 1925.

Referee O'Gorman, before whom the hearings in the accounting pro-ceedings were held, was paid $20,ceenings were neid, was paid $20,-312 on a bill he submitted April 1, 1925, for 312½ hours' work at the stipulated rate of $65 an hour. He was paid an additional $26,260 for eedings from April 1 to Sept. 30,

The total cost to the Jay Gould estate, therefore, of the services of the three legal firms and the referee over a period of two years was

The sixth share of Jay Gould's estate, being held for Howard Gould, amounted on Dec. 31, last, to $9,088,737, the accounting re-

Inasmuch as there are four other trusts of apparently the same amount being held for Mrs. Shepard, Edwin Gould, Frank J. Gould and the Duchess de Talleyrand, the counting would indicate that the Jay Gould estate now in the hands of trustees totals about $50,000,-

CHANGE IN LEAGUE COUNCIL PROPOSED

Poland Wants Seat as Balance to Germany-Spain for Reorganization.

Special Cable to Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Dopyright, 1926, by the Press and Political Publishing Cos. (New York World and Poot-Dispatch.)

GENEVA, Feb. 11.—The question of whether Germany has ful-filled all her obligations under the Treaty of Versailles, which is a preliminary to her admission to the League of Nations, will provide the most ticklish problem the approaching extraordinary assembly will be called on to solve, it was indicated when the official text of Berlin's application was received at the Secretariat.

The coming week is not strewn with roses. The first fights are due Wednesday, when Count Quinones da Leon of Spain, backed by Senor Guani of Uroguay and Senor Mellofrance of Brazil, will attempt to include in the agenda for the extraordinary session a the council be discussed.

Hitherto it has been conceded that only Germany's admission and installation as a member of Count Quinones is determined to council a general rather than a Poland is lobbying for the same purpose, but her chances of success are regarded as slight. In the white ointment, made with oil of first place Poland bases her claims for a permanent seat on the premise that the affiliation of Germany upsets the balance of power and contends that with Poland a per-member, equilibrium would be restored. Both Premier Briand and Sir Austen Chamberlain have declared that neither allies nor former ene-mies exist and that all members of the league are equal. The ideal-istic theory of the covenant of the league presupposes balance of power to be a thing of the past macy into league procedure would be greatly deplored. It is not denied, however, that with Germany's entrance, interna combinations and hostilities wil become increasingly prevalent. Germany's Status. The extraordinary assembly unnestionably will declare that Gernany has furnished effective guarantees that her international obli-

Speaker, for which we allow you $12.89

Those who take radio seriously and wish to receive the concerts in their true values, will find in the Bristol Audiophones the same satisfaction that is theirs in the possession of a fine violin or a grand piano.

This is due to several things. One is the correct musical proportioning of throat, column and bell. Another is the use of a new rubber material for the body that has the substance to hold the tone and eliminate distortion.

THE AUDIOPHONE IS NOT A PHONE UNIT FITTED TO A

It is an electrical instrument designed for great strength and fine tone quality.

It has a diaphragm of aluminum alloy—the best vibrating material ever developed. The tone arm is held in place magnetically, it can never wear or chatter. The magnet is extra large. And there is a tone adjustment that gives complete control of law. While captases have been is-sued for them, no action has been no matter how the hair is worn, all agree that its washing is of the first mportance. And Canthrox is the famous but simple preparation which The four were indicted as the operators of the Charpon Land for the right method.

It's a simple shampee, toe just dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water, and work it up into a soft, creamy lather which must be rubbed well all over the head into the hair. You can do this in a hurry any time, because the hair dries so quickly, and the results are delightful. Every strand will be so lusterful and fluffy, and it rids the scalp of all dandruff, excess oil and dirt. All good druggists can supply you with Canthrox, which is very inexpensive, costing only about three cents a shampoo.—Advertisement.

"The evidence undoubtedly tends to show," he statdoes not get foreign service pay and his taxes and inheritance tax. Senator Reed of Missouri ed, "that the defendant (Mrs. Symington) associated with Fatio and Chambers (the co-respondents) without her husband, attended restaurants and theaters with them, received them in her home, either alone or generally when others were present, and followed the present-day mode of life such as is depicted by Michael Arlen in his well-known novel, 'These Charming People,' now dramatized and playing."

And, talking of this and that, Mr. Steuer did make further defense of his client, arguing with such very great wit and boldness that the Court could not gainsay his brief. For how might a Judge deny the delightful verity of Mr. Steuer's plea? Pretty ladies do, what with one thing and another to bore them, accept the attentions of gallant men. Mayhap, the world being what it is and men being what they are, ladies are sometimes caught in embarrassing situations by their-let's face it-their husbands. But none but a dolt, and husbands sometimes are, we are afraid, dolts, would see anything wrong. Moreover, that is the way charming people behave, and should you doubt our word, you may read Mr. Michael Arlen's books.

A St. Louisan who has just driven to California and back tells this story on himself: At Yuma, where the Colorado River divides California and Arizona, he saw what he on the Arizona side. Recalling that he had a bottle of whisky in the car, he turned around and made for the California side. He ought he would drink some of the whisky before he threw it away, but he had hardly rned about when he saw other officers behind him. There was just one thing to do, so he took his bottle of liquor and threw it off the bridge. It hit the water far below with a very sad splash, and he again made for the Arizona side of the river. As he came off the bridge one of the waiting officers said:

"I would have given you $10 for that bottle of whisky you threw off the bridge. We are watching for grapefruit and The explanation was that there is a

IN DEFENSE OF CRIME.

I am taking the liberty, sir, of asking for some space in your valuable column to express my own humble reaction to the present-day clamor of reformers and others for the extermination of that pillar and foundation of our civilization and society, the law-breaker and criminal. As a general practitioner in the noble profession of law-breaking and more particularly as a charter member of the International Safe Relievers' Union, Local No. 42. I cannot help but state most emphatically that the efforts of the reformers if successful and carried to their logical ends will ultimately defeat their own purpose.

Have we then the millennium and a per-

In conclusion I want to say then to the reformers and law enforcers, etc., go ahead and reform and enforce the law, but be judicious and do not overstep the bounds of discretion and always remember that overzealousness in the performance of your duties or fancied duties might lead to disaster to yourselves and our beloved country. Remember, dirt-eaters are clothes-eaters, too. For the sake of your clothes, and your hands as well, choose a soap that cleanses quickly, yes -but safely, too.

And that means CHIPSO! Why? Because CHIPSO is the quickest, most effective, safecleanser known.

CHIPSO is the wonderful new, economical, flaked soap made by Procter & Gamble for every household use. CHIPSO's foamy suds soak the clothes clean, quickly, thoroughly, yet safely.

CHIPSO saves time and trouble. It ends chipping and shaving of hard cake soap. Its rich suds make boiling and rubbing almost entirely unnecessary. It rinses instantly and leaves the clothes with that sweet, fresh odor that you like so much.

And CHIPSO is economical! There is enough for 6 average family washings in each big package of CHIPSO.

Look for CHIPSO's blue-and-orange package at your grocer's. To try it, buy the ten cent size. To use it regularly, buy the big size.

Lubrite will pay $500 for the best Name and Slogan for the new Lubrite Motor Oil

The secret is out.

The mystery is cleared up.

Lubrite is looking for a name for a new product—a name

Here is something more interesting than cross-word puzzles, more entertaining than radio, more lucrative than cards. You'll enjoy it. You can't lose. And you may

The product is the new Lubrite Motor Oil. Name this oil, write a slogan for it, sign your name and address to your suggestion, and send to the Prize Contest Manager, Lubrite Refining Company, 3504 Washington Boulevard, St. Louis.

That's all you have to do to compete. The contest is open to all residents of the City of St. Louis, of St. Louis County, Missouri, and of St. Clair County, Illinois. You don't have to be a Lubrite customer to compete. You don't even have to be an automobile owner to enter the

The contest closes at midnight, February 22nd. The $500.00 reward will be paid to the person who submits the best name together with the best slogan. In the event of a tie, $500.00 will be paid to each contestant submitting the winning name and slogan.

A Suggestion For Your Aid

There are no restrictions nor limitations on the name and the slogan which you may submit. Of course, both should tend to indicate something of the nature, characteristics or high qualities of the product and of the Preferably, the name should be short. The slogan should be brief, easy to read and to remember, and descriptive of the oil.

For instance . . . the new Lubrite motor oil is a rich ruby red in color. This suggests the name of "Ruby Red Motor Oil."

Also, among many other good features, the oil has anasual protective and lubricating qualities. Therefore, a possible slogan might be "Make Motors Last."

This name and this slogan are given here merely as suggestions to help you in your effort to coin a name and write a slogan for the oil.

Announcement of the winning name and slogan will be made just as soon as it is possible to consider every entry and make the selection.

RULES

1. The contest is open to everyone who lives in St. Louis and St. Louis County, Missouri, and St. Clair County, Illinois, with the exception of employees and dealers of the Lubrite Refining Company and their families.

2. The contest closes at midnight, February 22. Entries postmarked prior to midnight of that date will receive full consideration even though they may reach us later.

3. You must submit (1) a NAME for the new Lubrite Motor Oil, and (2) a SLOGAN to be used

4. In case of a tie, the full reward will be paid to each contestant who submits the winning name and slogan.

5. Write legibly and on one side of the paper only. Be sure your name and address are clearly written on your entry. Address your entry to: PRIZE CONTEST MANAGER, LUBRITE RE-FINING CO., 3504 WASHINGTON BLVD., ST. LOUIS, MO.

The Lubrite Refining Company reserves the right to reject all answers if none is satisfactory, in which case the prize will be given to the best name and slogan submitted.

The New Lubrite Oil

The new Lubrite Motor Oil is new only to you. Actually it has been in practical use for a long time. In two patient years of experiment and development in the plant and laboratories of the big Lubrite Refinery in East St. Louis, this oil has had thorough and searching scientific and operating tests under year-around climatic conditions and in various types and conditions of motors.

Before we offered it to the motoring public, we made sure that it would be an extra quality oil. It is. In fact, so far as we know, it is as near perfect a motor lubricant as has ever been produced.

The new Lubrite Oil has lubricating qualities which stay with it for mile upon mile of gruelling driving. It is a veritable shield against friction and wear for cylinders and pistons, for crankshaft and bearings. With a negligible carbon content, it saves ordinary maintenance bills as well as the needless costs which result from inadequate or poor lubrication.

The new Lubrite Motor Oil is a companion-in-quality with Lubrite Gasoline—the motor fuel which has estabmunity, the motor fuel which has consistently lived up to its slogan, "Starts better, Runs better, IS better."

The New Lubrite Motor Oil is a better lubricant. Its superiority can be demonstrated both in the laboratory and on the road. Together, Lubrite Gasoline and the new Lubrite Motor Oil make a combination-of motor fuel and motor lubricant which provide surpassing motor car

The Company Behind the Product

The Lubrite Refining Company is an established St. and selling facilities. The general offices are in St. Louis where St. Louis men and women comprise the manage and operating staff. Just south of East St. Louis is the big refinery representing a capital investment of over two Placed at strategic points throughout the cities of St. Louis and East St. Louis and thorughout the suburban and rural territories adjacent to both cities, are more than 200 Lubrite service stations.

Added to this is a comprehensive equipment of tank trucks and tank cars to assure an uninterrupted supply of gasoline and motor oil at the service stations

Dedicated to the service of your motor car is a large but smooth-running organization which superintends and performs every step in production from the acquisition of the crude petroleum to the delivery of gasoline and motor oil to your automobile at the service station.

Such is the company which is offering this new product to discriminating motorists. Because there is nothing else like it in the St. Louis territory and because of the generous approval which the motoring public has given Lubrite Gasoline, we are inviting you to participate in the naming of our newest product and become even more intimately a friend of St. Louis' own refinery.

Even now, if you wish, you may obtain the new Lubrita Motor Oil at Lubrite Service Stations, for the com ness of Lubrite service has made this oil available to you wherever Lubrite Gasoline is sold.

Remember! The contest closes on February 22nd. All you have to do to enter is to submit your suggestion

The slain woman was Elsie Re-Work in preparation for spring gan, 21, who was last seen in the Howard Rest, a cabaret in Brooklyn, late Sunday night, according death at the home of Mr. and Mrs. to Miss Phoebe Davis, who had Winfield Hoge here. A will pur-been her roommate since last porting to have been drawn and render, then robbed the customers April.

Detectives are seeking habitues of the cabaret, with some of whom she is believed to have left in an automobile for home when she finished work.

Carey of the Homicide Squad questioned Miss Davis for hours. From her he learned that the dead girl was married, but has not lived with her husband. Miss Davis did not know the husband's name or where he is. Her married name is supposed to have been Rogan.

Miss Davis said her chum often spoke of her 3-year-old boy, her only child, who was adopted by a family in Flint, Mich. She met Mrs. Regan in St. Louis, April 20, when both were appearing in the chorus of a revue road company. They came to New York later in he spring and had roomed together since, working in various abarets wherever they could get an engagement.

NO SPECIAL PITCHING RULES FOR WORLD'S SERIES SAYS HEYDLER

the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Feb. 11:--Unperturbed by American League refusal to concur in the use of resin by pitchers, John A. Heydler, president of the National League yesterday characterized the present controversy as "trivial" and asserted that special rules governing the use of the substance in the world's series will not be necessary.

"If the American League does not want to sanction the use of resin, I don't think any power in baseball can force its use," he said. "The whole controversy appears trivial to me. The rule as adopted by the Joint Rules Committee makes the use of resin optional. It says specifically, a pitcher may use resin.' I suppose there will be pitchers in timately win. eague who will not take advantage of the rule.
"The National League will not seek special rules to cover the use of resin in the world series," President Heydler asserted.

"These dizzy spells frighten me"

"Of course they do, dear. And they are dangerous, too. But why have them at all?

"If you went to your doctor he would tell you that nine times out of ten dizziness and headaches mean that your body is being poisoned by constipation. I had the same trouble as you're having, but I didn't know the cause was constipation until I went to my doctor.

"He had me take Nujol and since then I haven't had a single dizzy spell or headache. Nujol prevents these troubles by removing their cause."

Nujol Helps Nature in Nature's Own Way

Constipation is dangerous for any-body. Nujol is aafe for everybody. It does not affect the stomach and is not absorbed by the body. Medical authorities approve Nujol because itis safe, gentle and natural in its action.

Najol makes up for a deficiencytemporary or chronic—in the supply of natural lubricant in the intestines. It softens the waste matter and thus permits thorough and regular elimi-nation without overtaxing the in-

JAMES M.—John McCormack, the tenor, appeared at the "Irish Village" during the St. Louis Ex-position, 1904.

C. M.—Collop Monday is an old English term used to designate the Monday before Lent, from the cus-tom of those days (when fasting was much stricter than at pres-ent) of cutting meat into strips or collops and salting it to keep un-til Lent was over. E. D. —You apparently have copied the wrong date on the silver dollar, as there were neither United States silver or trade dollars coined during the year 1830. The nickel 5-cent piece of the mint of 1913 with Liberty head is worth $50—Buffalo type does not command any premium.

C. I. F.—Forest Park Highlands opened on Sunday, May 3, in 1925.
GRANITE CITY.—Address Romulo Vargas, the Mexican Consul, Star Building, St. Louis, Mo.

JOCK.—Inquire of one of the furniture dealers here regarding the stains on your overstuffed furniture.

Taking the Dead-eyes out of Headlights

OF INTEREST MOTORISTS AUTOMOBILE SALES AGENTS and AUTOMOBILE MANUFACTURERS STRANGE, isn't it, when there's one dull headlight on an automobile it's almost sure to be a dead-eye on the left-just where lack of light invites trouble when cars pass at night.

Sometimes the fault is in the bulb, or there may be a faulty contact. But often a light is dull or dead because a reflector has lost its sheen.

That is bound to occur when reflectors are made of corrodible metal. Rust kills their lustre.

Logically, the remedy is the installation of reflectors made of metal that does not rust. There is, in fact, official insistence upon that kind of metal.

In Massachusetts, the Registrar of Motor Vehicles specifies that reflectors "must be made of a non-corrosive material, preferably brass."

We're sure you want reflectors that will always hold their brilliance and push a safe light ahead.

COPPER or BRASS reflectors do it.

Army through the Civil War.

After the war, young Armstrong returned to Kirkwood and becama florist. He built hothouses near the residence and later opened a floral shop at Spring avenue and Olive street, in St. Louis, which he abandoned 20 years ago because of failing health. He refused to permit electric lights or plumbing in the house and employed several servants to do the housework in the old manner. Two sons grew to manhood and departed. One son, L. H. "It is useless to ring. Miss Farraday will not answer the telephone or the bell tonight."

Just hefore she dropped astern

Just before she dropped asleep she heard a rustle at her door. In the morning she found a note from Brandon, written on a page

At the Temple Israel open forum discussion on the subject "Modern youth and the older generation; their changing attitudes toward life and toward each other," participated in by some of the most prominent ministers and sociologists of the city, a general conclusion of all the speakers was that this revolt of youth against old standards, this reign of infants terrible, which we know as flaming youth, is all due to the shortcomings of parents or antecedents of the present generation.

An editorial writer on the Post-Dispatch suggests that the older generation also has caught fire or maybe lit the first match of the conflagration now raging. That they are right in the midst of the holocaust themselves. Well, there must be a few who have arrived at the period of meditation; there ought to be some glowing embers of opinion smouldering in the ashes

Where there is so much visible evidence of changing mental attitudes, conduct, ideals among youth, there must surely be a lot of observation and opinions formed by parents in close contact with the situation which would contribute valuably to this symposium.

Of three letters appended today, one writer declaring himself One Who Is Not Interested, from his detached viewpoint offers, nevertheless, some interesting philoso-The two others again contribute to only one side of the argument: that is, that conditions created by older generation are responsile for any regrettable degeneration of the younger. That, at any youth is not to blame. Are there not some parents who have had occasion to reason with youth and either failed or succeeded who will arise and tell us of their experience? Or, aren't there any parents interested in their children and their children's wild associates at all?

Not Interested.

Since the discussion of what is pyrotechnically described as "Flaming Youth" took place at Temple Israel, much as to what causes the young ones to burn has been spoken but little has been said. As for the plaints that the younger generation isn't half so bad as it is cracked up to be; those plaints are untrue. The younger generation is a great deal worse or better, according to the viewpoint-than most persons of this older generation have any suspicion whatsoever. Ah, were the true conditions known, makers of sleeping potions would do a bonanza business catering to nerve shattered parents endeavoring to get a night's sleep while John or Jane was out enjoying the evening.

And nothing can be done about it, nothing will be done about it. The youngsters don't want anything done about it and neither do their parents; if the matter were to be rectified the youngsters would have no way to ease their weary lives; if the matter were rectified the parents have nothing to talk about. ONE WHO ISN'T INTERESTED.

Parents Again Blamed.

If the youth of today really is "flaming," as so many distressed commentators believe, or say that they believe, I think that we must go back to the upheavals of the World War for the cause. The brunt of war, the hardships and dangers, must be borne mostly by the young men. It is true that the services of elderly Generals, lawmakers, financiers, manufacturers, etc., are important in the conduct of war. But the young men are indispensable. Without them in the rank and file there can be no war.

As a result, the years 1917 and 1918 quite definitely put the older people in the background. Everybody's attention was turned to the young men-the soldiers and sailors and marines who were to wield the sword unsheathed by America. Boys still too young for the uniform also became the objects of more solicitous attention than ever re not soldiers, but they would be, some day.

All this extra attention, from church and school and public press and numerous other agencies, had the natural result of increasing the self-esteem of the young. Many of them, no doubt, became much more important in their own estimation than was seemly or agreeable. This quickened interest in the young continues today, and helps to hinder the effort of the older generation to beat back to their former supremacy. Yes, the youth of the country cling stubbornly to their pinnacle, where they were placed by the war-frightened older generations. It isn't human for young or old to relinquish gracefully an advantage once possessed. Drinking among the young, and I believe that the extent of it has been industriously exaggerated by our professional Jeremiahs. must be regarded as one of the blessings of prohibition. While wine occasionally used to be a treat, and was deemed necessary for the proper atmosphere of revely at a banquet or other social affair, the saloon never had much class among the young. Saloons were too commonplace. frequented too often by persons of uncouth appearance and demeanor, known as places where nasty conversations might be heard and where drunken brawls might occur. Saloons offered no romance.

Now, with the demons wine and beer removed, there is only bootlegger's whisky or gin available for an exhilarating glass. And to take a drink looks like an adventure. The youngster with a flask on his hip is a daredevil, defying the law of the land and a huge number of enforcement officials. (The law was enacted during the stress of war. Mocker Explains Why He Remained

When things are done quite out of season There almost always is a reason.

OTHING that Peter Rabbit, could say would induce Mocker the Mocking Bird to tell him where he slept at nights. 'That is my secret," said Mocker, "and I mean to keep it my secret just as long as I can. You know very well, Peter Rabbit, that it is not any of your business. It isn't the business of anyone, so there is no use teasing me. If you can find out, I won't have a word to say.

Peter knew that Mocker was quite right. He knew that it is very foolish for any of the little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows not to keep their sleeping places secret. So he soon gave up teasing. "Any- ing to do but stay. By the time way," said he, "you can tell me I had grown a couple of new "I'll be right here waiting for how it happens that you remained flight feathers it was too late to you.
